

Brahma is one of the three main forms of God in Hinduism. His four faces show that God can see in all directions at once.

If I could see one thing from history it would be because

Brahma

If I could see one thing from the future I would choose

because

If I could watch someone else in the world today I would choose

because

If I could find out why I am like I am, I would want to know why I.....